ajay_bhargav, Tue Apr 10 2012, 01:49 am

Hello friends,

Since last week I was working on migrating Rickey's World from old server to new server. During this migration there was some issue with the server license coz of which migrating to new server was not as smooth as it could be. Many of you might have noticed their missing posts, comments, chatbox messages and many of new members have lost their user logins. I tried my best to get maximum possible data i could get out of old server, But unfortunately I was not able to get last week's data (April 2nd to April 8th).

Incase you have lost your post or messages etc. Please create a new thread or repost your problems. and for those who lost their logins, Please Its a request to rejoin the website again to get new logins. We apologize for the inconvenience caused.

Keep your hopes up! and remember we are always here to help you.

Regards,
Team RW
